RICHMOND, May 18.—[illegible] ed, mostly soldiers.

An Appeal for the Washington Sufferers.

Any one that has ever travelled through Eastern Carolina cannot be ignorant of the enviable reputation of the town of Washington for generous hospitality and those other virtues that made the place so attractive to strangers. No town in the State had a more high-toned, refined, and hospitable population, and now that many of them have been rendered homeless and penniless by the ravages of the war, [illegible] not be forgotten by those who have known them in better days. As the burning of the town has left many of the citizens entirely destitute immediate relief is necessary, and we appeal to the citizens of Raleigh to act in the matter promptly. Any donations left at the Progress Office will be handed to some one authorized to receive it.

We have received a copy of the following circular, which we lay before our readers with a view of enforcing the considerations already urged. The writer, [illegible]

[illegible]

Referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

A message was received from the House of Commons proposing to raise a joint select committee of [illegible] on the part of the Senate and [illegible] on the part of the Commons to take into consideration so much of the Governor's message as relates to impressments.

The proposition was concurred in and Messrs. Leitch and Speight were appointed as the Senate branch of said committee.

The engrossed resolution from the House of Commons in favor of J. C. Griffith, Sheriff of Caswell county, was read the first time and placed on the calendar.

Mr. [illegible] recommended Wm. K. [illegible], Johnston [illegible] and Wm. L. Pease for Justices of the Peace for Granville county. Concurred in and transmitted to the House of Commons.

Mr. [illegible] introduced a resolution in favor of certain magistrates in Stokes county. Referred to the Committee on Propositions and Grievances.

On motion of Mr. Young, the Senate adjourned until tomorrow morning 10 o'clock.

Your son and brother
Of Old Lenoir County,
[illegible]
[illegible] Co. A. [illegible] Reg't N. C. T.

TO THE PEOPLE OF NORTH-CAROLINA.—In accordance with the wishes of many friends, I announce myself a candidate for the office of Governor of North-Carolina, at the election to be held on the first Thursday in August next.

My principles and views, as a Conservative "after the straitest sect," are well known to the people of the State. These principles and views are what they have been.—They will not be changed.

I am not disposed, at a time like this, to invite the people from their employments and add to the excitement which prevails in the public mind, by haranguing them for their votes. We need all our energies to meet the common enemy, and to provide means of subsistence for our troops in the field and the people at home. Let the people [illegible] and freely to the polls and vote for the man of their choice. I will cheerfully abide their decision, whatever it may be.

If elected I will do every thing in my power to promote the interests, the honor and the glory of North-Carolina, and to secure an honorable peace.

FRENCH BROAD LANDS FOR SALE.
GLEN CANNON FARM, TRANSYLVANIA COUNTY, N. C.

THIS FARM LIES ON THE FRENCH BROAD River, within five miles of Brevard, the county town, and is undoubtedly known as the best tract of land, and the most productive property in the county, and probably in Western North Carolina. In salubrity of climate, [illegible] it is not surpassed by any property in the State. It consists of [illegible] acres of land, [illegible] of which are first quality French Broad bottom, all of which, with the exception of 40 or 50 acres, are cleared and under a high state of cultivation, thoroughly ditched and excellent fences, most of which are [illegible] on locust posts. 2,575 bushels of [illegible] from 58 acres of this land with ordinary cultivation and without any fertilizer ever having been applied to it. Ninety acres are laid down in the most approved manner to the grasses and afford heavy crops of hay and excellent pastures. The balance of the tract, say 300 acres, is the heaviest and best timbered mountain land.

The whole tract is under one boundary and may be subdivided advantageously, there being four very eligible and beautiful building sites, with bottom land attached.

On the premises is a good cottage residence, of five rooms, each with a fire place, kitchen, servant houses, ice house, storeroom, dairy, smokehouse, framed corn crib, capacity 2,500 bushels ear corn, one double and five single [illegible] houses, two tenant residences, an excellent saw and grist mill, all built within thirteen years by the proprietor. The saw mill is driven by an overshot wheel of [illegible] feet in diameter, and is located at one of the most beautiful water falls [illegible] about 100 feet in height and equal to [illegible] horse power, and only fifteen minutes walk from the residence.

This property for this year is under rent to Gen. Smith, of East Tennessee, who will give any information desired during the absence of the proprietor.

The price for these lands is ($160,000) one hundred and sixty thousand dollars. Payment may be made in Confederate stock at the market value at Columbia, S. C., at time of sale.

With the above property can be purchased twelve remarkably prime and orderly negroes, being a picked gang accustomed to the culture of the farm in the most careful and cleanly style. Among them are four men, three women and five children. The men are excellent ploughmen, mowers, cradlers, &c., one is a good carpenter. Of the women, one is an excellent cook and spinner. The children are from 2 to 6 years of age. Also the farm tools, consisting in part of plows, harrows, horse rake, field roller, corn planters, sorgho mill, molasses boilers, corn sheller, straw cutters, timber carts, &c., &c. Also the stock of highly improved cattle.

[illegible] some of those who applauded him [illegible] persons who only use him for [illegible] and the [illegible] have done more than everybody [illegible] the affections of the people from him. [illegible] exclusives know that "cotton is king," [illegible] the European and Yankee markets. [illegible]

[illegible] Holden, and [illegible] we could [illegible] we should [illegible] We have criticised Gov. Vance [illegible] which neither he nor his friends [illegible] all we have said [illegible] with the greatest respect, personally. We thought this due to his own good [illegible] as well as to the exalted position he occupies.

But all the Destructive papers came out against the support of Gov. Vance, as well as [illegible] throughout the State [illegible] have been constantly doing all they could [illegible] We stood against them all [illegible] supported and defended him against [illegible] ago. Gov. Vance told us that neither the Confederate or the Observer reflected his views, and that he must have an organ; and after we had sold one-fourth of our establishment to Mr. Richardson, the Governor approached him on the subject of buying the balance, as some of his staff officers did us, and promised that in the event we sold we should be retained as foreman and thus saved from conscription. In compliance with the request of Gov. Vance Mr. Richardson approached us on the subject, after we told him [illegible] in the Confederacy [illegible] the Progress for the purpose of [illegible] against Mr. Holden. Here the [illegible] ended, and we see nothing very reprehensible in the course of Gov. Vance, but we only mention these things to show that he then thought us sufficiently respectable to publish his organ, in case we could support him against Mr. Holden, or to be foreman of the office and secure his favor in shielding us from the enrolling officer in case we should agree to sell. God knows we have never taken any pleasure in criticising even the Governor's political record, while personally we have not only not assailed him but defended him on all occasions. Mr. Holden has a right to run for Governor, and we in common with other freemen of the State have the right to vote for him; and we shall be satisfied, whatever the result may be, that the people have done right.

But this brings us to the unprovoked personal assault of the Governor. In his speech here on Monday, within a few miles of our birth place and the resting place of the bones of our ancestors for half a dozen generations, and in presence of many who [illegible] of [illegible] childhood, his Excellency tried to degrade us by representing us as a peddler of lemonade in a circus. We acknowledge our humble origin and our poverty, and are not ashamed of our early struggles against adversity and rude fortune, but we have never appeared in the character which he represented, and the story is only a repetition of the slander of John Spelman, a creature whose brutal attacks upon Gov. Vance are remembered with loathing and disgust by all persons of refined sensibilities. But if we had been the lemonade peddlar the Governor represents us, and had spent part of our younger days in bawling out "'ere's yer lemonade, only five cents a glass and two sticks of candy [illegible]," as was given with all necessary stage effect by the distinguished gentleman, the allusion would have been only the worse; for it is a [illegible] and thing at every [illegible] in the country [illegible]

[illegible] and gallant, and it is strange that he should [illegible] [illegible] by able physicians [illegible] our [illegible] was finally rendered because any surgeon would not consent for us to report to our [illegible] for duty. We should not have noticed these matters had they emanated from any ordinary source. But coming from the chief executive of the State we could not have [illegible] in our own defence than we have [illegible] particular [illegible], we confess, but we think we know [illegible] gentlemen who are as averse to swallowing [illegible] as we are.

We learn that after Gov. Vance had pitched into Holden and ourself to his satisfaction, he assured his audience that he should not allude to either of us, personally, again. This is kind, but it would have been far better for him had he never done so at all. His assault on us was unprovoked and unnecessary, and he is welcome to all the capital he can make out of our early poverty or our humble employments. We were considered a marvellous [illegible] by the Governor and those who [illegible] his favor, as long as we supported him, but when we felt it to be our duty to take sides against him, as between himself and Mr. Holden, we [illegible] in the [illegible] while [illegible] God that we have been able, against all [illegible], to [illegible] our present position. Though humble we are content with it [illegible]

The Destructive supporters of Vance want to withdraw Holden because they know the people want to elect him, and rather than have their pet Vance beaten, they would withdraw both, hoping Vance would be [illegible] while Holden would be left out in the cold. The true Conservatives, who know they have the power at the ballot box, will not consent to any such backing out. We mean to run through and we mean to beat them.

THE SQUAD TICKET.—The following Destructive Ticket for Legislative honors is announced in the Conservative. For the Senate, Hon. S. H. Rogers; for the Commons, Wm. Laws, Thos J. Utley and D. G. Fowle. This is the ticket put forward by the Destructives and will be beaten by an average of about five hundred votes. The means being employed [illegible] are desperate but we shall beat them all on every track.

Nothing later from the Army of Northern Virginia than is given in our telegraphic columns. So far the news is favorable to our arms.
